Dear Ms. Gayola,,

Under Proclamation No. 1414 s. 2007, the last week of November was declared as the National Biotechnology Week (NBW). This authorized the seven executive departments of government namely, Science and Technology, Agriculture, Education, Environment and Natural Resources, Health, Interior and Local Government, and Trade and Industry to formulate a plan for the meaningful celebration of the NBW.

In support and recognition of the valuable role and potential benefits of biotechnology to science and technology, agriculture and food security, nutrition and health, sustainable environment, and economic growth, the Department of Science and Technology (DOST), through the Philippine Council for Health Research and Development (PCHR), leads the 14th NBW celebration on 13-17 November 2018 at the World Trade Center, Hall D, Pasay City.

In this connection, may we invite you and your students to view the weeklong exhibits from 13-17 November 2018, 9:00 am to 5:00 pm. May we receive your confirmation on or before October 31, 2018, by sending back the reply slip via email.

For queries on this matter, you may contact our staff-in-charge, Marie Antoniette V. Sumague at (02) 837-7534 (loc. 203) or through email address mvsumague@pchr.dost.gov.ph .

Thank you.

Very truly yours,
