MAY PAG-ASA
A Cultural Caravan for Nationalism

It is our revered hero, Andres Bonifacio, who said in his poem Pag-Ibig sa Tinubuang Lupa that there is no greater love than love of country. This truth rings true today as it had when the Katipuneros wielded their weapons in a successful bid to free the nascent Philippines from centuries-old Spanish control.

However, the fight continues. New foreign superpowers threaten our territorial integrity, rendering our economic and cultural lives vulnerable to foreign intervention. For the youth to stand as the hope of the nation, for us to be ready and willing to defend our Motherland, is a challenge we need to confront now more than ever.

May Pag-Asa: A Cultural Caravan for Nationalism is an enrichment activity aimed at allowing senior high school students to learn and practice genuine love of country. It is composed of a series of cultural workshops and a forum on how the patriotic youth can contribute to nation-building starting in their respective communities. Workshops include spoken poetry, songwriting, dance, photography, and drama. Our partner organizations could also conduct film screenings, photo booths, and free shirt printing services.
